WHO WE ARE

Eterna A.G.I.S.A. is a family business located in Paraguay (South america), dedicated mostly to livestock farming consisting of breeding, fattening and marketing of livestock. Over the years the company entered the production and exports of hardwood charcoal from the hardest wood of the highest quality in the world, thanks to the natural resources that exist in the country.

ENVIRONMENT

We deeply care about the environment and have never once cut a tree for the specific purpose of making charcoal. 100% of our wood come from timber of developing farms for livestock purposes.

We work only with farms that have approvals from both SEAM and INFONA (environmental protection agencies of Paraguay), so you can be confident that 100% of the wood we use is acquired legally and in accordance with all local conservation laws.

HARDWOOD FROM THE PARAGUAYAN CHACO “THE HARDER THE WOOD, THE BETTER THE CHARCOAL”

Due to a unique climate and soil, all of the woods found deep in the heart of the Paraguayan Chaco are dense, harder and heavier than any other woods all over the world.

Our main product, is made with the wood “Quebracho Blanco” - a unique wood that farmers don't use for land development purposes and most of the time they just burn.

CHARCOAL PRODUCTION "QUALITY IS OUR MAIN FOCUS"

We work with small farms and small producers to ensure high quality and create a social program for contractors that have no education and no job possibilities in the city.

We control the entire production because we are partners with small producers and contractors and organize their logistics, financials, and sell their products at the best market price.

Our products are made under strict standards while still keeping traditional way - Our wood is hand-picked, hand-cut and, cooked in our traditional brick ovens.

NATURAL HARDWOOD LUMP CHARCOAL

"HOTTER, LONGER, BETTER"

All of our charcoal are ideal for Restaurants, Supermarkets, Retailers and even for Home BBQ - allowing any barbecue seem to have been cooked by a chef.

Our main product, Quebracho Blanco is one of the best quality charcoals in the world and arguably the best for restaurants due to its long duration, no spark, high heat, and very low ash content.
